Birthday Book Update Required

The Birthday Book located in the Port Wakefield Post Office is due for an update. The book is used for you, our residents of Port Wakefield, to let us, the newsletter typists, know of family birthdays and wedding anniversaries.

These are then placed in the newsletter when it is near the date of the event.

However, we try to keep up to date with the passing of residents or those who have left and may not want their name included again. This is local knowledge and we, the typists, do not know everyone in the district so ask that you take a look at the book and provide updates if required of your family or friends.

Your attention to this will be greatly appreciated.

Port Wakefield Community Newsletter committee.

Thought for the day

I spent most of my life worrying about things that never happened- Mark Twain

Hamley Bridge says "Hello" with entry signs

If you're making tracks to Hamley Bridge, you'll soon be greeted by new entry signs.

On a shorter leash: Keeping you and your dog safe

Wakefield Regional Council is reminding dog owners to keep their pets under effective control in public spaces or risk a $315 fine.

The call comes after numerous incidents of dogs seen wandering at large and several dog attacks reported in the past few months.

Council's by-law is that a dog must be on a leash in public places and Council land unless it is an assistance dog that needs to be off-leash.

Your dog is your responsibility and it's important to notice the signs of stress and agitation, especially around children and other pets.

Legislation requires owners to keep dogs under effective control, whether that's by means of a chain, lead or cord no longer than 2 metres in length. If another dog is showing worrying signs like coming after yours, it's best to just leave the park and go somewhere else rather than risking it.

Dogs escaping out of yards are also a major issue, which has resulted in attacks or lost pets

Responsibilities of a pet owner are listed below:

You legally must:

- Desex all dogs and cats born after 1 July 2018
- Microchip your dog and cat by the age of 12 weeks, or within 28 days of acquiring the animal
- Every dog over the age of 3 months MUST be registered
- Keep your dog on a lead no longer than 2 metres in length

It's a really good idea to:

- Socialise your dog with other pets and people
- Think about some obedience training courses
- Check your property over for any gaps in fences or ways of escape
- Understand what makes your dog nervous in public and try to avoid these situations

Volunteering Surveys

Overview: Volunteering is a very important part of the economic and social/cultural activities in any town or region, yet young people's (those in between 12- 25 years old) involvement in volunteering is decreasing.

This is a survey that aims to gather some information about what types of volunteer work young people in the regions, South Australia, specifically the Goyder, Wakefield and Clare and Gilbert Valleys local government regions, are doing.

It is based on a definition of volunteering which is: "Time willingly given for the common good and without financial gain" (Volunteering SA).

Further, we are also trying to understand what motivates young people to volunteer as well as what barriers exist to encouraging more volunteer activity.

This is a project sponsored by Legatus in partnership with Dr. Melissa Nursey-Bray from the School of Social Sciences University of Adelaide. The surveys are anonymous but will provide some important information to feed into the project.

If you have any questions at all, please feel free to ring Melissa on 0437 738 635 or email her at: Melissa.Nursey-Bray@adelaide.edu.au –

Thank you for doing this survey and participating in this project
