New plans for Port Wakefield follow PW2PA project

As the PW2PA team completes its small list of remaining works in Port Wakefield township, a large new set of local projects are about to start up. Following the PW2PA project which has provided safer intersections, better highway flow and easier access for visitors, Wakefield Regional Council is aiming to invest up to $4 million in further improving the township's attractions.

Its main thoroughfare, Edward Street, is the focus of an upgrade which currently includes improved town entry and wayfinding signage, indigenous street art, greening of the street and a paved plaza/ civic centre area with adjacent parklet.

The Council's Economic Development & Grants Coordinator, Les Pearson, said plans include linking this upgraded precinct to a popular local swimming spot. Responding to community requests to have its Tidal Pool dredged, the Council has widened the project scope with projected federal and state grant funds to include refurbishment of the former RSL building at the Tidal Pool for future commercial use and a new adventure themed playground.

Mr Pearson added that, as a separate initiative, the RAA has installed 4 EV charging stations on Burra Street close to the entry to the Caravan Park.

"We're really working on sharpening up the town entry, town centre and Tidal Pool area as the first stage," he said. "The PW2PA project was a major driver behind Council's decision to proceed with plan development and upgrades for the township."

Mayor Rodney Reid has confirmed: "Activating Port Wakefield as a tourism and lifestyle destination remains at the centre of this year's plan."

AUSTRALIA DAY AT PORT WAKEFIELD.

August 28.—Perfect weather prevailed here on Saturday, when the Australia Day celebrations were held, on the Oval grounds. A monster procession, headed by the Kadina Brass Band, paraded through the streets. After the opening address was delivered by the mayor, dinner was partaken of. Sports, horses over hurdles, tilting the ring, and sideshows and stalls of every description kept things moving along. Money was good-naturedly given in all directions.

A prize of £1 1/ (donated by Mrs. M. Donaldson) for best decorated vehicle in the procession was secured by the "Queen of Flowers." The queen competition was responsible for the netting of £177. the "Queen of Agriculture" (Miss J Nicholls) being chosen as "Queen of Australia Day." Other queens were—Children, Miss P. Fraser; Flowers, Miss P. Bampton; Sports, Miss D. Johnson. In the evening a concert was given in the Foresters' Hall to a crowded audience, the sum of £25 'being taken: The total takings will reach approximately £500.
